The nominating committee, chaired by Mrs. Evelyn Linebery, has selected a fine slate of candidates who have agreed to serve as officers next year. Nominees from the floor will also be welcome at the spring meeting, when the election will take place.

Permian Historical Society Meetings

Permian Historical Society meets each spring and fall. All meetings are open to the public and the society encourages all who are interested in regional history to join our group.

Permian Historical Society Fellowships

In late December of 1980, J. Conrad Dunagan and his wife, Kathlyn Cosper Dunagan, gave a generous gift of $100,000 to Permian Historical Society Board of Directors. The donation was designed to award fellowships to graduate students who plan to write theses in the history of the Permian Basin.

The first awards will begin in the fall of 1982. Candidates for these awards must be nominated to the society selection committee by the history faculty at The University of Texas of the Permian Basin.
